- It's inspired by old, funny retro Sega games from the 90's. - The game is mostly in Spanish, but it's easy for you to understand how it's made. - There are four stories for each character, with a different way to end the game and a different Final Move. - The game has an almost endless amount of upgrades to discover and use in the battle. - Each character will have secret upgrades hidden in secret chests in the game. - There are secret characters to discover when you're playing. - You can have three characters in the party, all with 3 upgrades, as soon as you get three characters there will be two hidden characters to discover. - The characters are in an alpha-stage, they are just skins for the player, so

some of them might change their faces, costumes, powers, moveset and more, depending on how you'll play the game. - The game can be played in a single player way, but you can also play in three-way games with 2 players and/or one vs AI. - Each character has specific characters to unlock and stories to follow. I'm really looking forward to hear what you will think about the game. And please, please, no spam, spamming or any kind of content copying or use of any kind of commercial site will be endorsed by any kind of donation, just play the game and try to beat your opponent. The best way to contact me is through the forum, I'll answer every single email, message and comment I get, and I'll give my best to the community of the Jokes. Stay updated and stay tuned!

Jokes is a story-driven and Metroidvania style 2D brawler with RPG Elements and arcade gameplay where you explore 8 planets, all of them with their own little story arc, gameplay and secrets. You have to fight your way through the tournament to face the Dark Father. You play as a Warrior, an Assassin, a Magic-User, and so on, and you can even combine those character classes to perform the most amazing Finishes in the game. The New Day has finally arrived! After the catastrophic events of Game-Jolt Day, Mega Man and his friends want to settle down, give you their honest opinions and answer your questions, while leaving their cards on the table. So, let's begin the issue with an interview with MightyNo.9 and Mega.Man.X, the authors of the quality title with big shoes, Mega Man: Maverick Hunter X. Our humble team at Hardlight were able to talk to the creators of a renowned series and ask them a few questions about the future of their creation. 1. The good people at Hardlight asked us, what is the inspiration for the title? MightyNo.9: The original Mega Man game and Mega Man 9 are some of my favorite games of all time. I was about 12 or 13 when it came out, and I played it a lot. I wanted to make a Mega Man game for a long time, and this year I finally did. The Mega Man franchise is unique in that it's a long-running series, but hasn't been developed by the same company for a very long time. It's the perfect opportunity for us to take the Mega Man brand in a whole new direction. This is my first Mega Man game. I think it's something I'm proud of, but it's not perfect - there's still a lot of room for improvement!

Mega.Man.X is a lot more open-ended than any previous Mega Man game. While the game isn't just a straight beat-em-up, it is an action game where you have a lot of options as to how you play it. 2. What made you decide to set the game in the present day? MightyNo.9: We were really happy with how Mega Man 9 ended, and we wanted to make a Mega Man game in a similar style. FightNJokes is a fighting game in the genre of beat 'em ups, where the idea is to beat the bad guys as quickly as possible. It doesn't get any simpler than that! GAME FEATURES:- Choose one of 10 fighters to defeat the evil Dark Father- Play your way! Play your favorite strategy in the game or try out new combinations- Defeat the evil Lord and unlock the secret characters- Fully remade animation for each and every character- 8 HD backgrounds- Classic resolution of 320x200 pixels for old MS-DOS games Feedback on this game is welcome!If you like this game please rate it with 5 stars! The ability to move directly from a level select screen to the start of an object is a very useful ability for any kind of game. At the moment this is not implemented in the game, but it would be possible to use a level select screen and an additional bar to select the destination level. Screenshots in images.carriedoad.com Choose a character; level 1-8:Ok, now look at the bar that was just added. If the desired level is selected, the music of the level should be played instead of the main menu music. It's possible that you can also select in the '2nd level' screen which character to use for the game, but the available characters are: BrainMan - You must be good with your 'art' Bubbles - You must be good with your 'persuasion' Cheeky - You must be good at being 'fast' Errors - You must know how to 'play' Flat-Top - You must be good at 'manipulating objects' Hob - You must be good with 'speech' Ponk - You must be good with 'punching' Splat - You must be good with 'grenade throwing' The game doesn't have a 'trial' mode and I'm not sure if it's possible to start and continue without the save feature, so I decided to give the player 5 minutes to find something in the game. If you're dying: You can check your data in the selection screen at the title screen. The data is used for the next levels. You can change the music in the selection screen at the title screen. You can change the music in the game via the '

for people who believe everyone can be a perfect little snowflake. Friday, November 11, 2016 QTP: Has The Winter Storm Ever Affected You? - A First For A Storm That Rarely Hits L.A. Hey, guys. I know I've said most but I am a little out of practice on posting. Hope to post more frequently in the future. This post might be a year late. Better late than never? This November 11th, 2016, was the first time I rode the NJT in a big way. Unfortunately, it was in a way that I didn't want to be in. After I woke up on Nov 11 from the usual deep sleep in a cold, dark bedroom, I went to the college library. How's that for sleeping in? The drive was about 30 minutes and my T shirt was damp when I got to the library. The libraries were open till 5:30pm that day. I planned on getting a text from my best bud about 3:00pm.

After dinner, I decided to meet up with him and get a burger before I headed home. The sky was clear and it was almost 70 degrees in the full sun. The weather was so perfect - I felt like I was in the Sierra Foothills living in the beautiful pictures. I started my trip home to Redwood City by 9:45am. I hoped to be home by 10:30am. I was slightly concerned about going through the firestorm that was downtown Manhattan, NY from Washington DC. I started at high speed along the NJ Turnpike from the Westbound side.

I planned on taking the exit 40 lane onto Route 70 Southbound. I then planned on meeting up with the Port Authority Bus Terminal at Manhattan West at the corner of Routes 2 and 9. From there, I was going to go straight to the T, then take the Second Avenue train back into New Jersey. By 12:30pm, we were passing south of the New Jersey Turnpike in the Collingswood area. Southbound traffic was at a crawl. That meant I was going to go a little farther north to the Parkway, then take Turnpike Exit 57A to the Parkway north to the Pa Bus Terminal. We t
